What is Safeguarding?

Remember Child Protection is everyone's responsibility regardless of role or status.

Section 11 of the Children Act 2004 places duty on agencies to ensure that their functions are discharged having regard to the need to safeguard children and promote their welfare; by safeguarding and promoting welfare we mean:

- Protecting children from abuse or neglect;
- Preventing impairment of the child's health or development;
- Ensuring that children are growing up in circumstances consistent with the provision of safe and effective care; and
- Creating opportunities to enable children to have optimum life chances in adulthood.

Please remember Child Protection is the responsibility of everyone. Report concerns to the right person, in person. For additional information, please see policies and information on the school or the Staffordshire Safeguarding Children’s Board website.

Child protection is just one aspect of safeguarding, one that we as a partnership take very seriously.

It is much better to share a concern and be wrong than not share at all.

Remember there are many forms of abuse. We must be alert to them all. We have to imagine the unimaginable.

Safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children is everyone’s responsibility.

If you have any concerns about the welfare or safety of a child in our care you must share it.

You must:

- Refer immediately
- Inform the right person in person
- Do not email or leave a voicemail
- Record the date, time and details of discussions
- Keep copies

- In the first instance, it is best to share your concerns with the DSL of the school that the child is a member of. If they are unavailable, then report this to another assistant head teacher or any other DSL. Key members of Student Support /Pastoral Services are trained DSL as well.

Determining need – questions to ask yourself.

- Is this family coping?
- Is the child's need being met?
- Have I ensured that the child has had an opportunity to speak, be heard and listened to?
- What are the relevant factors at the core of the child's needs? Do I have a picture of the family as a whole, their parental capability and environment factors?
- Have I used this guide to prompt me to think more clearly and understand the situation?
- Have I considered any previous history of support, service involvement and the current risk and protective factors within the family? Think about what the child's experience really is?
- Am I sure about my understanding of the information? If not, take advice in the first instance from your line manager or your agency's safeguarding advisor
- Have I discussed my analysis of the identified need with other professional involved with the child to achieve a more holistic approach?
- Have I discussed my concerns with the child and their family and offered advice and support?
- Have I asked the parents for written consent to my involvement, my assessment and/or referral and to information sharing to help engage services quickly?
- Have I been professionally curious?
- Have I thought about the needs of any sibling?

Remember – always see things from the child's point of view.

Advice on Sexting

Indicators of Vulnerability to Radicalisation

- Radicalisation refers to the process by which a person comes to support terrorism and other forms of extremism leading to terrorism.
- Students may become susceptible to radicalisation through a range of personal, social and environmental factors. It is vital School Staff are alert to these indicators.
- Identity crisis – the student is distanced from their cultural religious heritage and experiences discomfort about their place in society.
- Personal crisis - this may involve experiencing family tensions, a sense of isolation, low self-esteem. Students may become disassociated from existing friendship groups and involved with new ones. They may be searching for answers to questions about identity, faith and belonging.
- Being in contact with extremist recruiters.
- Accessing extremist websites.
- Possessing extremist literature.
- Joining extremist organisations.
- Significant changes to behaviour
- Experiencing a high level of identity crisis of personal crisis.
- Significant changes to appearance, attitude or behaviour.
- Justifying the use of violence to solve societal issues

- Seek advice if unsure or persistent

Signs of CSE/CCE

- Unexplained absence from school and home, especially overnight.
- Child is “missing”.
- Older boyfriends and multiple boyfriends.
- Dressing much older than they look. Excessive use of make-up, inappropriate dressing.

Peer on Peer Abuse

- Follow normal safeguarding procedures
- Consider ‘balance of power’
- Seek advice if unsure or persistent

For other forms of abuse – see Annex A of KCSIE Sept 2018

Sexting is the sharing of images, videos of text by children under the age of 18 that are of a sexual nature or are indecent (including pseudo images) and includes revenge porn. Children need to know that this may be a criminal offence.

Criminal or not? The balance is between natural curiosity/risk taking/exploring relationships and deliberate, harmful, spiteful and illegal. (See ‘Sexting in Schools and Colleges – Responding to Incidents to Safeguard Young People (UKCCIS2016))

How to deal with the incident

- Follow normal safeguarding procedures.
- Tell a DSL
- Only view images if authorised by the Head teacher; only search if conducted by a member of the same sex (female teacher to view girls phone, male teacher to view boys phone)
- Do not download or ask for image to be sent, nor should you print any images
- Always seek advice and guidance

Children with a Disability

When working with children with disabilities, practitioners need to be aware that additional possible indicators of abuse and / or neglect may also include:

- A bruise in a site that might not be of concern on an ambulant child such as the shin, might be of concern on a non-mobile child
- Not getting enough help with feeding leading to malnourishment
- Poor toileting arrangements
- Lack of stimulation
- Unjustified and / or excessive use of restraint
- Rough handling, extreme behaviour modification e.g. deprivation of medication, food or clothing, disabling wheelchair batteries
- Unwillingness to try to learn a child's means of communication
- Ill-fitting equipment e.g. callipers, sleep boards, inappropriate splinting
- Misappropriation of a child's finances
- Inappropriate invasive procedures.

It is also worth noting that children with additional needs may be more vulnerable to abuse. This may include disabled children, as mentioned above, as well as those with special educational needs, those with health concerns including mental health, those recently bereaved, homeless and those living with domestic violence or drug/alcohol abusing parents or in poverty.

Responses from parents

Research and experience indicates that the following responses from parents may suggest a cause for concern across all four categories:

- Failure to engage or attend appointments
- Delay in seeking treatment that is obviously needed
- Unawareness or denial of any injury, pain or loss of function (for example, a fractured limb)
- Incompatible or inconsistent explanations offered, several different explanations or the child is said to have acted in a way that is inappropriate to her / his age and development
- Reluctance to give information or failure to mention other known relevant injuries
- Frequent presentation of minor injuries
- A persistently negative attitude towards the child
- Unrealistic expectations or constant complaints about the child
- Alcohol misuse or other drug / substance misuse
- Parents request removal of the child from home
- Violence between adults in the household.

Confidentiality

- Confidentiality cannot be promised to the child. This should be made clear to the child early on in any disclosure.
- Information should be shared with a designated person who will decide who else should know and what to do.
- Staff should be vigilant when sharing personal and confidential information. All confidential information should be shared on a “need to know” basis and via a secure mechanism. This is particularly relevant when sharing information electronically with a third party such as Social Services, NHS and CAMMS. If you are unsure, please seek guidance.
- Additional information and guidance can be found in the ATLP GDPR Data Protection Policy.

How to Respond to a Disclosure

- Do listen carefully to what the child is saying
- Do take the child’s statement seriously
- Do write down as soon as you can exactly what the child said after the event
- Do not get the child to write it down or repeat it
- Do tell the child they are good to tell
- Do tell the child it is not their fault
- Do take care of yourself and work out how you are feeling
- Do ask open questions.

How Not to Respond to a Disclosure

- Do not panic
- Do not rush off and find someone else to listen
- Do not promise to keep things secret
- Do not lie to the child or say everything will be fine now they have told someone
- Do not make judgements of any kind about the abuser especially if a parent
- Do not ask lots of detailed questions
- Do not press for answers a child is unwilling to give
- Do not make assumptions of how the child feels about their experiences
- Do not ask leading questions.
- Record any injuries on a body map where appropriate

Allegations against Staff

- If an allegation is made against a member of staff, the member of staff receiving the allegation should immediately inform the Head teacher. They should not inform the subject of the allegation.
- If the allegation concerns the Head teacher or Assistant Head teachers, the member of staff should immediately inform a DSL who should then inform and consult with the Chair of Governors, who will liaise with the LADO team on 08001313126
- The member of staff should not inform the Head teacher of the allegation.
